DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Abstract

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

3. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of "means" in lines 2, 3, 4 and 5 (three times). Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 6, "said cutting edge" is vague as to which one; in lines 7-8, the recitation "with respect to said blade assembly" is vague and indefinite since the pivot axis defines structure that is part of the blade assembly.

In claim 2, line 2, the recitation "with respect to said blade assembly" is vague and indefinite since the pivot axis defines structure that is part of the blade assembly.

In claim 4, line 2, the recitation "can hinge around a pin" is vague and indefinite as to how it relates to the pivot axis previously set forth.

Claim 9 is rejected as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language; this claim is an omnibus type claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 1-6 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Story, pn 1,010,704.

Story discloses a razor with every structural limitation of the claimed invention including guiding members (e.g., the upper portion of 14 and 17 as viewed in Fig. 3) and a blade (e.g., 15), a grip portion (e.g., 26) pivotal about a pivot axis (e.g., 22 as viewed in Fig. 3), wherein the location of the pivot axis is adjustable with respect to the blade assembly and can be fixed in two or more locations or positions (e.g., by moving threaded member 13 with respect to 20 through varying degrees of tightness such as by rotating 13 with respect to 20 180 degrees in either direction), and wherein the blade assembly can hinge around a pin (e.g., 13; or 27), which pin is attached to the grip portion (e.g., via 20, 22, 23; or directly), wherein the blade assembly is provided with means for engaging the pin (e.g., either the bottom surface of 12, or 21; or 23, 25), and wherein the means for engaging the pin comprises clamp means (e.g., 23, 25).

In the alternative, if it is argued that there is no disclosure of such a function, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to make the invention, particularly the pertinent features thereof from a pliable material that would allow such action for various well known benefits including the availability of such material, the reduced cost of such material, and the likely reduced weight of such material.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 7 and 8 appear that they would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
